A PUBLICATION
OF THE STUDENTS
OF

LICK-WILMERDING SCHOOL

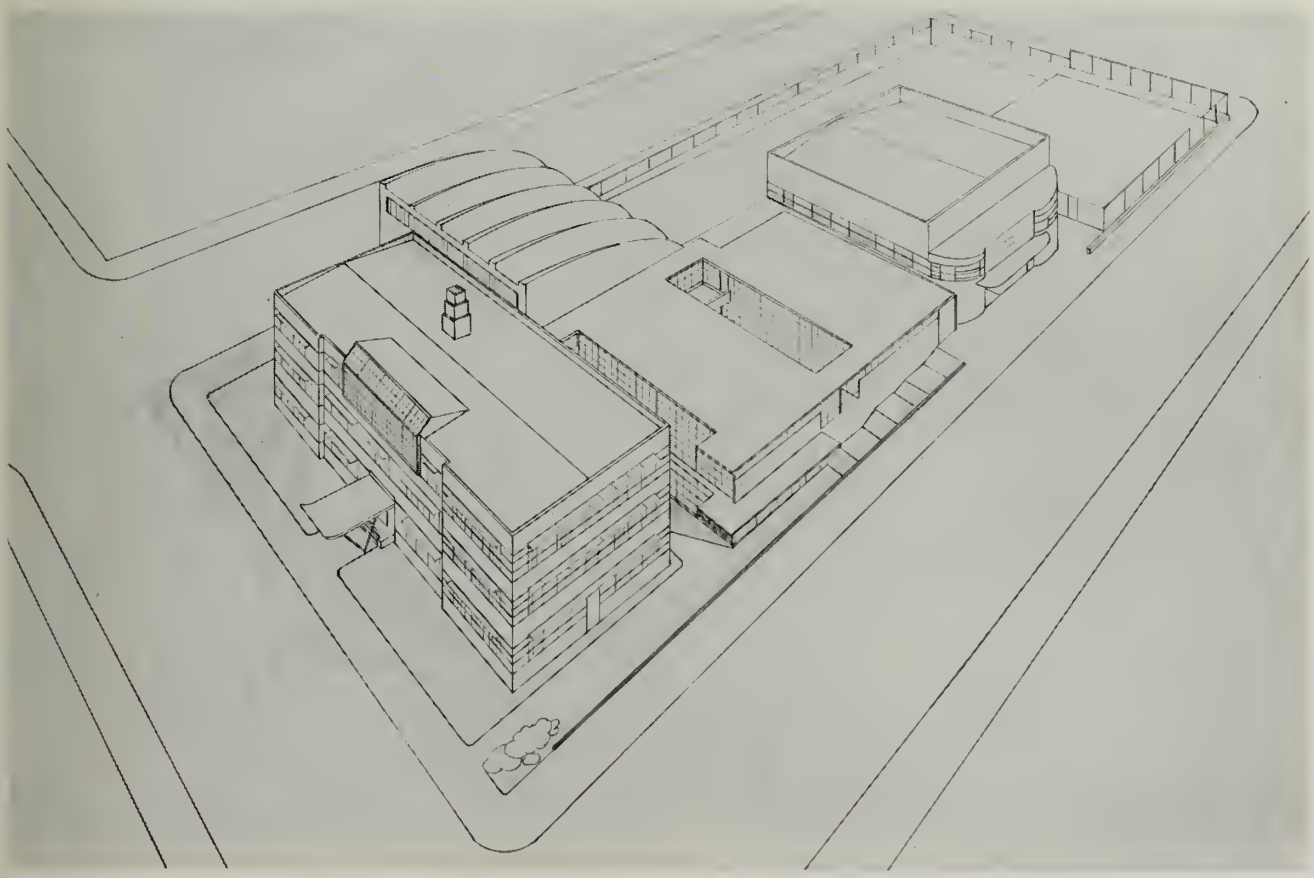
SAN FRANCISCO · CALIFORNIA

THE CALIFORNIA SCHOOL OF MECHANICAL ARTS
THE WILMERDING SCHOOL OF INDUSTRIAL ARTS

VOLUME MCMXLVIII NUMBER 1

INTRODUCTION

In this issue of the Tiger, we look back on the high school that we have attended. We see the school, not only in the picture on the opposite page, but in the faces and scenes that follow in the book. The picture of the new buildings represents the future that is to come, but the students here now will remember Lick-Wilmerding as it is shown in the pages of this book.



JOSEPH A. PIVERNETZ

DEDICATION

We, the senior class, wish to dedicate this issue of the Tiger to Mr. Joseph A. Pivernetz, whose untiring efforts have made our senior year at Lick-Wilmerding a successful one. As our class sponsor, he has been a friend and advisor to members of the senior class, as he has been to many students in the past. He is the faculty advisor to the Board of Control, and Director of Athletics. We are proud to pay this tribute to him.

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Since I am the first Lick-Wilmerding graduate to become director of the schools, it is to be expected that I would take an extraordinary interest in the schools and in the students. I am keenly aware of the challenge of the past in my outlook for the future of the present students. Students, faculty, and director cannot be complacent if the accomplishments of former Lick-Wilmerding graduates are to be matched or surpassed by the youth of today.

Lick-Wilmerding has a tradition of success. The value of our type of education has been proved by the thousands who have attended our schools in more than half a century. Among the leaders of industry, the names of Lick-Wilmerding men are legion. Our high school graduates who continue to college find themselves well prepared. The University of California records show Lick-Wilmerding to be among the top-ranking preparatory schools and to be first of all private schools which send graduates to the university regularly.

Since the end of the war we have been fortunate in being able to offer a real service to many young veterans who helped win the victory. In seeking a high school diploma at an age when they would ordinarily be working or completing the university, some of them now exhibit the same courage and perseverance in the classroom that they displayed on the battlefield. The training of G-I's is a truly worthwhile endeavor and one in which we are glad to participate.

It is the aim and policy of our schools to have a small selective group of earnest students who appreciate the value of an education. Because very rigid requirements must be met in both quality and quantity of work, students graduating from Lick-Wilmerding can rightfully be proud of earning a diploma. Employers who hire our graduates have learned that a Lick-Wilmerding diploma means that the students have mastered essential fundamentals and may be expected to do satisfactory work in the field in which they specialized.

The limited enrollment at Lick-Wilmerding tends towards more individual and better instructions and closer relations between teachers and students. It is probably for this same reason that so many close and lasting friendships of our graduates date from student days. Certainly few, if any other, secondary schools have such a large and loyal alumni group.

As part of our future plans for Lick-Wilmerding, the present buildings will be remodeled and new shops constructed. This modernization program has already received much financial support from the alumni. When the rebuilding has been completed, Lick-Wilmerding will have one of the finest of modern school plants.

No director's message could be concluded without singling out the graduating classes. To the students of 1947-X and 1948-J, I offer my sincere congratulations and best wishes for a happy, successful future. The faculty will follow the careers of the graduates with affectionate interest and will always be glad to see or hear from them.

EDITOR'S COMMENT

This piece of copy put the wraps on our Tiger. I'm glad that it is finished. The preparation of this book has consumed much time and energy, but the work has been enjoyable and worthwhile, and its completion has given us great satisfaction.

We have tried to make this book interesting enough to be read and reread during the ensuing years—each time recalling to us some good friend of school days or some happy incident from the time spent at Lick.

The staff wishes to extend its thanks to Mr. Long, our advisor, who helped smooth out the rough spots of the book and make a finished job of it. We also wish to thank Mrs. Stewart of the English department, who gave unselfishly of her time and suggestions.

The members of the staff deserve credit. Jack Gardner's capable and tireless assistance contributed immeasurably. Without the talents of Jeanne Zumwalt and Ray Tienken, the writing and typing could not have been accomplished. Dave Hutchison's enthusiastic services have been invaluable. I want to express my appreciation to them for the splendid cooperation they have given me. Without it, we would not have had this book.

The excellent portraits and group pictures in this book are the result of the hard work put in by Larry Murphy of Marcella's Studio. My sincere thanks go to him for the creditable job he has done.

I feel that all the persons connected with the production of this yearbook can feel justly proud of the results. I know I do.

GREEK RELIEF COMMITTEE

Last October ninth Mr. William Pappas was invited to speak to the student body about the trip he had just made to his native village of Levidion in northern Greece. What he said about the hardships and suffering there gave Mr. Joseph Pivernetz the idea of having the Lick students adopt Levidion and send food, clothing, soap, and other necessities to the people of the town.

The students went right to work on the project, led by the Economics class, which was organized to lead the drive. Lee Bell was appointed as head of the main committee, to work directly under Mr. Pivernetz. The first drive netted Levidion four hundred sixty-five pounds of clothing. The next drive, for soap, brought in a total of fifty-eight pounds. The drive for macaroni was the most successful because of the prize offered.

Money to pay for the heavy postage to Greece was a serious problem. Mr. Pivernetz saved the day by inaugurating a system of fines to be paid in his classes by those unfortunates who were caught violating the rules. These fines and voluntary contributions by the students netted one hundred and fifty-eight dollars. Nearly all of the money taken in has had to be spent on the postage, so that there is now approximately twenty dollars left.

The Tiger staff would like to commend Mr. Pivernetz, Lee Bell, Johnny Andronico, Gene Meyer, Clara Morando, Bob Max, Emil Lassus, Claudine Pope, Don Frediani, Ted Wedel, and Jeanne Zumwalt, who all worked so hard to make the drives successful.

BASKETBALL

The basketball team this year was not very successful, but the fellows on the team were very persistent. In all, seven games were played, and each was lost.

In the first game, against Potrero Hill, we lost by a score of 37 to 38. The high point men were Pasero and Fadin, each with 11 points.

The second game was against Mission. We also lost, but by a score of 22 to 32. The high point men of this game were Srok, Kendall, and Fadin, each with a score of 5 points.

The third game was against the San Francisco State "J.V.'s." This game was really lost, and by a score of 51 to 32. Kendall was again high point man with 11 points.

Our fourth and easiest game (so we thought) against Jefferson ended in a score of 22 to 23 in favor of Jefferson. Srok was high with 11 points.

The fastest and most sensational game of the season was our fifth, which was played against S.F. State. Although we played our best, we lost by a score of 44 to 47. Fadin led with a score of 9 points.

In the sixth game, against Balboa, we lost by a score of 25 to 30. Kendall was again high point man with a total of 8 points.

The last game of the season was played against Half Moon Bay. The "30's" lost by a score of 8 to 22. The varsity also lost by a score of 47 to 33, with Edhammer holding the high point honors with a total of 9.

First Row: M. Aldrich, T. O'Connor, D. Manning, T. Beatty, E. Gilstrap, J. Walsh, P. Edhammer
Second Row: W. Tooker, M. Lipman, J. Angeles, B. Coffey, J. Coltrell, E. Ghiorzi, P. Cogbill, D. Dimitratos
Third Row: J. A. Pivernetz, coach; S. DeGrandi, A. Fadin, T. Garibaldi, A. Bolla, B. Friedman, T. Turnpaw, R. Pasero, E. Pistoresi, R. Kendall, W. E. Long, coach

BASEBALL

The spring baseball season officially opened February 5, when twenty-three boys signed up. Practice started immediately, and the first game was played against Jefferson High, our boys losing 9 to 4 because of eight errors. Errors again lost us our next two games, the first to Washington High, 4 to 2, and the second to Half Moon Bay, 2 to 0. The next game the Lick Tigers determined to win, and win they did by pounding out a decisive victory over St. James, 14 to 1. The next game was an interesting win over Half Moon Bay, 3 to 2.

The Varsity Team consisted of the following:

First Base: Turnpaw
Second Base: Pistoresi
Shortstop: Pasero
Third Base: Coffey
Left Field: Aldrich
Right Field: Fadin
Center Field: Angelis
Pitchers: Dimitratos, Kendall, Pugh
Catchers: Ghiorzi, Fadeff
Subs: Tooker, Manning, Coltrell Gilstap, Walsh, Garibaldi

Pasero was elected captain, and O'Shea, team manager; Mr. Pivernetz and Mr. Long were the coaches.

Other games played this year were St. Peters, Jefferson, Half Moon Bay, Burlingame, and South San Francisco.

CLASSES

The following section of this book shows the classes at Lick Wilmerding. Here are pictured all the class presidents and the students in their respective classes. As the seniors look at these class pictures they see the boys and girls who will take over the student offices when they have gone. To these new student officers we, the seniors, say, "Carry on!"

BEVERAGES

THE L.W. CALENDAR

SEPT. 10—School opened and the students found a new party in power. Messrs. Gardner and Granicher had been planning a revolution in the wilderness of Forest Hill all summer.

SEPT. 19—A dance at Lick. For several days before, the dance committee had been trying to find an appropriate name for the dance. Everyone had a different name which he wanted chosen. A state of civil war was declared, but some peace loving soul managed to have the whole thing called off, and the dance proceeded without bloodshed, and we might add, without a name.

SEPT. 26—The fifty-third Founders' Day at Lick-Wilmerding. A special rally was held at which Mr. Britton and Mr. Wynne gave talks on the history of the school. As a special guest of the school, Mr. "Swede" Feldcamp, class of 1905, spoke on the values of school spirit.

OCT. 3—The first rally. We were entertained by Arie Fadin and the gone, but not forgotten, Ernest Cliff Potts, at that time Bachelor of Music. The little theater group, led by Dave Granicher and "little" Jack Gardner, put on a skit entitled "Little Ways to Irritate Your Little Teachers." Dave Granicher, who was well received, demonstrated how the sophomores should treat the seniors. Bob Max stole the show with a gum-chewing act.

OCT. 10—Cinch notices were received by the parents of those students who were not quick enough to get the mail out of the mail box before their parents got home. The day was grey and not a bit of sun slipped through the clouds over Lick to cheer up the last hours of the poor unfortunates who were condemned.

OCT. 17—This was the night of a more or less successful orchestra dance. The auditorium was well decorated.

OCT. 31—A new style of entertainment for a rally was introduced to us. Hillbillies came to town with cabins, jugs, and costumes of all kinds. The boys whooped it up with their corn squeezin's. After several choruses of Feudin' and Fussin', the Hatfields and McCoys came into the audience, and after threatening us with rifles, got a sizable amount of loot, which they turned over to Mr. Pivernetz for his Greek Relief Fund. Mr. Richard Charles Kendall, Esq., Man of Distinction, stood out in his role of "Blunderbus Smith."

NOV. 7—This was the night of the last dance of the semester at Lick-Wilmerding. The auditorium was decorated in red, white and blue. An American flag was put up on the back wall, and the side walls were covered with red, white, and blue stars cut out by Claudine Pope, who hasn't been quite the same since.

NOV. 12—There was a rally at which Granicher, Hutchison, Gardner, and Hill went black-face and did their highly original version of the Ink Spots. They were ably assisted by Richard Kendall, who was so well remembered from his last dramatic effort. At one time during the performance the public address system went out, and the boys had to proceed cautiously on their own.

NOV. 18—Some character in the senior class declared a legal holiday for seniors only. Although the day was a bit cloudy, everyone agreed and all quickly took off around the corner. We headed for Market Street and finally ended up in the Emporium, where we had races going up and down the escalators. Ernie Potts went in to see Santa Claus, but the attendant at the door wouldn't let him in because of his advanced age. Norm Burke was seen looking longingly at the trains in the toy department, wondering how long it would take to talk his folks into buying one for him, no doubt. Jack Gardner was handling all the model ships in the hobby section. He wants to be a sailor, didn't you know? Wedel was blowing bubbles from his pipe.

NOV. 20—The day after the day after the senior sneak, all of the seniors were gathered up in Mr. Pivernetz's room by Mr. Wynne. Then, Mr. Wynne and Mr. Pivernetz proceeded to lecture us on the merits and demerits of "taking a day off." As a result of this meeting, the streetcars were unusually crowded before eight o'clock in the morning.

DEC. 12—This was the day of the Xmas rally. Dr. Granicher took over the rally by presenting his famous horror show. This completely astounding show was based on the doctor's experiments on the ancient Vlb (scientific name) man. The curtain went up, the lights dimmed, and there was a horrible scream from the vicinity of the first row, and the monster came to life. Then, after disposing of the doctor and a few of his assistants, it again ceased to exist. After the rally, turkey and noodles were served in the cafe.

JAN. 20—The day of the school elections saw posters hanging from every possible spot in the school. At noon the real campaigns started. Hill's car (if you want to call it such) was decorated gaily with crepe paper and posters supporting "Honest" Dave Granicher and "Fighting" Jack Gardner. Dave, all decked out in "tails" and shoestring tie, climbed upon his soapbox and made a big speech amidst the cheering of his supporters. He also gave out free cigars to all who said they would vote for him. Then Gardner did the same thing, but he was not wearing "tails" because none could be found to fit him. Cogbill was pacing back and forth on the second floor wearing a set of sandwich boards bearing the posters of his favorite candidate.

JAN. 21—At the final rally the new officers were introduced to the students. They were President, Phil Cogbill; Vice-President, Dave Granicher; Secretary, Jack Gardner; Yell Leader, Joe Futerman; and Sports Manager, Ralph Pasero. Mr. Pivernetz then came up and announced the winner of the Levidion drive. The winner of the $5.23 was Ray Tienken, who thanked Mr. Pivernetz and quickly pocketed the money.
